FAIRMONT has named a street after Senator Elkins. It ought to be a big one and probably is.

The clipping editor on the staff of the Parkersburg Sentinel should take pains to give the proper credit, when he gives it all. He can do this by looking to see what paper he takes it from. We trust he will not forget that the name of this paper is the Clarksburg Daily Telegram and not some other name.

The prominent business man who went into bankruptcy here Wednesday has the sympathy of many warm friends. During his business career here he conducted a splendid store and did an extensive trade but circumstances were against him and he was forced to honestly surrender to his creditors. We are informed that he made a complete accounting and surrendered all.

The vigorous crusade against the Salem speakies has succeeded in lessening the business out there largely but so far has not rid the town of it. The indications are that the crusade will have to be perpetual to keep the liquor traffic down and that it will never be entirely broken up. So long as there is a demand for whiskey, there will always be some one who will manage some way or other to sell it. It has been sold to a more or less extent ever since Salem sprung into existence, but of course a crusade against it results in making it less flagrant.

SOME of the Democratic papers in West Virginia think our Government ought to be in the heat of the fight in South America. There does not yet appear to be occasion for such action but events are being closely watched and it is a mistake to believe that Uncle Sam will not be on hand when his presence is required to protect his interests and his principles. If the war keeps up, it is a foregone conclusion that we will be in it, and there is no sense in this premature worry of the Democratic editors. It is not amiss, however, for them to be taking an interest so as to have their courage worked up enough to fight, should the opportunity be afforded them.

The people of Adamston have at last aroused themselves to the fact that there is much lost in not having a town government. This change of sentiment on the part of many has come about within the short period of two years, but there has been a wonderful transformation in that place since last the question was before the people and voted down. It is no longer a sleepy village but is an active, lively town. The population has made marvelous growth and property has become much more valuable. Some splendid homes have been built and an industry or two has sprung up there. The changed conditions appear to demand municipal government. It looks as if the majority of the citizens of the place favor incorporation and the many advantages and safe-guards to be derived therefrom.

DRY HAUL

Made by Deputy Sheriffs in a Raid at Salem.

Proprietors of Speakeasy Board Train Officers Get Off.

A warrant for Gain & Allen's speakeasy and gambling place at Salem was put in the hands of Deputy Sheriffs Fred Fleming and J. M. Knox Wednesday afternoon. They went out on 55 to execute it, but the proprietors got on the same train that the officers got off and thus made their escape. The deputies proceeded to the place and proposed to break in, but someone assured them that if they would wait a little while they would be given a key. They waited and the key was forthcoming. They entered but found the place deserted so far as human beings were concerned, but there were spirits there. All signs pointed to the information that selling had been going on there. They secured a lot of gambling paraphernalia and brought it here. Otherwise it was a dry haul, and the officers returned on No. 4 empty handed.

AMPUTATION

Necessary From the Effects of Typhoid Fever.

Newton Emory, of Cascara, Doddridge county, was put on No. 4 at Salem last night and taken to the Maryland Hospital in Baltimore for treatment. Some weeks ago he had typhoid fever and it settled in one of his feet, making amputation necessary. The object of his trip to the hospital is to have the amputation performed. He is about 50 years of age and has a wife and five children. His sufferings are intense.

A Scholarship, providing for free tuition in voice, piano or violin, for three years, has just been offered by Dean Wrightson, of the West Virginia University School of Music. It will be awarded by a committee next June to the pupil making the most satisfactory progress during the winter and spring terms, and it will be open to all pupils, including those who may enter during the remainder of the school year. Amusements

The Village Parson.

"The Village Parson," a new drama, will be presented at the Grand Dec. 19, and with a well balanced company. The play has not only a well-constructed plot, but is of intense interest throughout. There are a great many powerful situations in the piece. In act first, where a husband and wife separate, the scene becomes one of heartfelt interest and brings copious tears to the auditors. The situation in act two is another strong scene in which little Myrtle, the blind child, does some very clever and earnest work, and holds the audience with closest attention. The play presents a number of excellent climaxes which enthrall all present. "The Village Parson" will be given with complete stage settings, the scenery being brought here by the management. The company includes actors of recognized ability.

"Gypsy Jack," Jan. 23

Despite the apparent sway of farce comedy and "show girl" performances, the old-fashioned melodrama still claims its devoted adherents. That this is so, without a doubt, is practically proven by the unstinted success which has greeted Willis Granger during his present tour with "Gypsy Jack." Not only is Manager Edward C. White highly pleased with the reception which has greeted his new star, but the latter has, by his intrinsic worth as a melo-dramatic actor, proven his fitness for the role of the gypsy boy, which is the leading character in the production.

Miss Katherine Willard is adding new laurels to her reputation by her rendition of "Aria" in the emotional drama, "The Power Behind the Throne." Miss Willard has proved her ability and exceptional talents in the production, so much so that her tour is one continuous ovation. Nothing is lacking in scenic effect, stage mechanism or costuming to keep "The Power Behind the Throne" up to the topmost standard, while the star's support "play up to her" with admirable skill.

The Tide of Life

Edingham, Ill., Nov. 7, 1902. "The Tide of Life" played my house on November 7, to a big house and gave entire satisfaction. The company is a well selected one and the scenery and electrical effects extraordinary. The specialties far surpass any presented here so far this season.

Beautiful Church Tea Given by Mrs. John Bassel.

A beautiful Church Tea was given by Mrs. John Bassel in her hospitable home Thursday evening of last week from 7:30 to 11 o'clock. Mrs. Bassel was assisted by the women of the Parish Aid Society of Christ Episcopal church. The entertainment was quite a successful and attractive one. The fancy table was well cleared of its fancy articles and could have sold double the articles placed there for sale. Chocolate, coffee and wafers were served in the dining room, Mrs. J. J. Duncan presiding at the chocolate table, and Miss Ellen Graham Bassel at the coffee table.

Mrs. Robert L. Morrison and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander were the hostesses in their attractive parlors on Thursday afternoon of last week of one of the most enjoyable meetings of the Five Table Card Club of the season. The gloomy weather that pervaded Thursday was dissipated upon entering the bright and cheerful rooms, which were lighted with innumerable candles with rosy hues shades. The table cards were unique in detail, being illustrated medallions. The prizes were won by Miss Margaret Coplin and Mrs. Elizabeth Hursey Vance. The hours were from 3 to 5 o'clock and a delicious frappe was served with wafers and bon bons on the arrival of the guests. The honor guests present at the meeting of the Club were Mrs. Edward R. Davis, Mrs. Moore Jackson and the Misses Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Lewis gave a very enjoyable taffy pulling on Wednesday evening of last week to entertain a few of their friends. Souvenirs were given to Mrs. Hal M. Rapp and Mr. Lynn S. Hornor for the whitest taffy, and a consolation souvenir to Mrs. William Hay Lewis. Later in the evening an elaborate Dutch lunch was served in the dining room. The guests on Mrs. Lewis' list were, Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Wallis, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lewis, Mrs. Elizabeth Hursey Vance, Miss Nina Wallis, Messrs. C. Earl Vance and Lynn S. Hornor.

A very delightful card party and supper was given by the Misses Freeman Monday evening in their hospitable home on East Main street. There were six tables used for progressive euchre, which was played in the parlor and library. The Xmas colors and decorations were very prettily carried out in all the appointments, the rooms being beautifully decorated in holly and bright berries. The score cards were brilliant scarlet for the men and white for the women. Miss Garrard was fortunate enough to win the beautiful souvenir for the highest score on a cut with Mrs. John Ruhl. The very attractive lone hand souvenir was captured by Mr. Peter Koble-gard on a tie with Mr. Claude Gore. A delicious salad supper was served at 11 o'clock. Covers were laid for 24 guests.

The Five Table Card Club will be entertained by Mrs. Charles O. Findlay Friday afternoon of next week from 3 to 5 o'clock.

A large dancing reception will be given by the society men at the Traders on Friday evening, December 26.
